

Michigan Conference UMW 3rd Annual Celebration October 23, 2021

Emily Jones is the executive for racial justice at United Methodist Women, a national, faith-based women's membership organization. She leads United Methodist Women's campaign to interrupt the school-to-prison pipeline. Prior to her current position, Emily served as the director and lead organizer for the Rhode Island Interfaith Coalition to Reduce Poverty. She has also worked as a program manager for an education non-profit and as a lay associate pastor for discipleship at a new church plant in Chicago, IL. She began her career as a labor organizer with the healthcare employees' union in Connecticut.
