

Legacy Endowment Fund Campaign

Honoring our foremothers' legacy

On March 23, 1869, eight women gathered and organized the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, the first of many Methodist women's mission organizations. Their Call to Action: hearing about the health and education needs of women in India. Their response: raising money to send a doctor, Clara Swain, and a teacher, Isabella Thoburn, to serve them. United Methodist Women is their successor and we celebrate 150 years of changing the lives of women, children and youth.

Building Legacy

United Methodist Women is celebrating its 150th anniversary by strengthening and passing on its mission inheritance with the launch of the Legacy Endowment Fund Campaign. The campaign goal to raise $60 million in new funds that secures and solidly positions the organization to prepare and train future generations of women that fulfill our mission for service in the next 150th years.

Together, we make an impact

The Legacy Fund, a forward-looking permanently invested endowment, the earnings of which will strengthen our organization, so that future giving can be even more directly linked to our projects and partners, addressing injustice and alleviating suffering. Your contribution to the Legacy Fund will underwrite endeavors to strengthen our internal capacity to further invest in life-changing programs and services, that create a promising tomorrow for future generations of United Methodist Women in answering God's call to serve women, children and youth around the world.
